

SLAYERS

LAYERS IS A MONSTER SUPPLEMENT FOR 5E THAT PRESENTS PROFESSIONAL SLAYERS TRAINED TO HUNT SPECIFIC LEGENDARY threats. Instead of generic adventurers or inflated heroic NPCs, these hunters are specialists built around preparation, knowledge, and disciplined coordination against a single terrifying foe.

The intent of this product is practical encounter support without overshadowing the player characters. Each Slayer is deliberately weaker than the creature it hunts. A Troll Slayer cannot defeat a troll alone, and a Dragon Slayer is not meant to duel a dragon. Instead, these hunters provide tactical advantage through preparation, battlefield coordination, and precise exploitation of monster weaknesses.

Every Slayer shares two core doctrines: Nemesis Knowledge and Nemesis Coordination. Before battle, a Slayer can explain the abilities and weaknesses of its quarry, ensuring allies understand the threat they are about to face. During combat, the Slayer directs attacks and exposes openings so that nearby allies can strike with confidence.

These hunters work best as quest givers, guides, rivals, or hired experts accompanying a party into dangerous territory. A Slayer changes the shape of an encounter, making terrifying monsters survivable without ever replacing the heroes of the story.

Use these stat blocks as tools. Whether these hunters are members of a guild, lone wanderers with scars and grudges, or elite specialists employed by kingdoms is left entirely to the GM.

Nemesis Coordinator. While this slayer can see a medusa, allied creatures within 30 feet of this slayer that can hear it have advantage on attack rolls against that medusa.

Nemesis Knowledge. If this slayer spends 10 minutes explaining medusa behavior, abilities, and weaknesses to allied creatures, those creatures learn the medusa's Petrifying Gaze ability and how averting their eyes can reduce the risk.

Blindfight Training. This slayer has blindsight out to 10 feet. Within that range, this slayer can perceive creatures without relying on sight and is unaffected by the medusa's Petrifying Gaze.

ACTIONS

Multiattack. This slayer makes two weapon attacks.

Scimitar. Melee Weapon Attack: +5 to hit, reach 5 ft., one target. Hit: 6 (1d6 + 3) slashing damage.

Hand Crossbow. Ranged Weapon Attack: +5 to hit, range 30/120 ft., one target. Hit: 6 (1d6 + 3) piercing damage.

BONUS ACTIONS

Shield the Eyes. This slayer warns an allied creature it can see within 30 feet about the danger of direct eye contact. That creature can avert its eyes without suffering disadvantage on its next attack roll before the start of this slayer's next turn.

- This slayer often fights blindfolded or with eyes partially covered.
- It stays close to allies so its instructions can guide their attacks.
- It closes quickly with the medusa, where its blindfight training negates the gaze threat.
- If allies begin turning to stone, it prioritizes finishing the medusa rather than retreat.
